Flat Hat Takes First Place Honors At VIPA Convention In Lynchburg; Royalist Named Runner-up Magazine

The Flat Hat captured first place honors among 20 college newspapers judged at a convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association at Lynchburg College on April 10. Allan Jones, editor, and Edward Griffin, managing editor, were present to receive a cup donated by the Lynchburg News.

Washington and Lee University's Ring-tum Phi took second place laurels and the Sun Dial of Randolph-Macon Women's College was third.

The Royalist, represented by Marcia Magill at the convention, was surpassed only by the Tatler of Randolph-Macon Women's College in the literary competition. The Prism, of Lynchburg College, took third place. Judges stated that the Royalist had the highest literary standards of all the 25 publications judged.

The criticism of the Flat Hat said "the wealth of editorial, news and pictorial features is clearly superior, in volume if not in quality. Its chief quality is readability." The Washington and Lee publication was praised for its make-up, type faces, topography and print job.

Officers of the VIPA for next year were chosen at a business session following the presentation of awards. Bill Dudley, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, was elected president; Betsy Elliott, of Lynchburg College, was elected vice-president; and Betty Spindle, of Farmville State Teachers College, will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Many of the state college newspapers had strict censorship over all news and editorial material, and a resolution was passed at the business meeting to try to aid the students editing the censored publications. Several papers are also hampered by a serious lack of funds, because of sparse advertising and receiving no aid from their respective colleges.

National Concern To Run Cafeteria Starting In June

By Mary Lou Hostetter

Before the formal opening of summer school this June, Crotty Brothers, Inc., of Boston, will take over complete management of the cafeteria. Described by Charles J. Duke, bursar of the college, as "experts in the food business," the national food concern has served such institutions as Wellesley, Tufts College and General Motors for almost 20 years.

During the war, the senior member of the firm served as official advisor of food problems for both army and navy.

Renovation Of Wigwam

The biggest alteration in the present cafeteria system of William and Mary will be the complete renovation of the existing Wigwam. The bookstore portion will be moved from its present position to the front part of the building which was formerly used as storage space.

The soda fountain and snack bar will be doubled in length and moved out three feet further from the wall. A stainless steel unit including electric griddles, work tables, refrigerator and coffee urns will be installed.

Books of meal tickets will go up from $30 a month to $34.50, but tickets will be usable in both the big and little cafeterias and at the snack bar where students will be able to buy sodas, cokes and candy as well as regular meals. Cigar-

Not Just Another Questionnaire

A committee from the Student Assembly is preparing a survey which will go to the men students in the form of a questionnaire to ascertain trends of opinion regarding plans for creating a Men's Student Government.

Fifty campus leaders were interviewed personally, and the committee has designed the questionnaire so it will take a minimum of time for other students to fill out. Such questions as "Do you think there is a need for a Men's Student Government here at William and Mary" are asked. Also included are suggested reasons for forming such a body.

From time to time such questionnaires appear which students seem to consider just more material to make paper airplanes of. The survey is a project which the committee has seriously undertaken and it is to the advantage of everyone to take at least the time and energy to answer the questions. If a Men's Student Government is to be formed, it will require the cooperation of all, and if there is violent opposition to such a proposal, the time to decide and act is now.

Vets Change Cafeterias

From hearsay about campus, one may gather the 150 vets out on the Richmond road dorm are "slightly put-out" because of the inconvenience caused by the closing of their cafeteria after spring vacation. This cafeteria, operated by Mrs. Huffman as a unit of the regular cafeteria for the convenience of the men living up there, has been in operation since the temporary dorms were built for the college. According to statements released by Y. O. Kent, steward of the college, this unit suffered a loss of $10,000 last year, even though it was patronized by veterans living there. Money is still being lost in the project, and the students, in turn, are not patronizing it.

The present management feels that equipment is bad and it is impractical to continue with the service of the cafeteria. A bus is run in time for meals, and the change to the campus cafeteria will not mean a change in prices, while it may mean a slight improvement in food and closer contact with other students. For after all, it is the same college, whether one happens to live at Jamestown or Toano.

Only three men have issued formal complaints, and while mutterings are going on, no amount of griping will replace it, for the vets' dorm cafeteria is closed to remain closed.

The difference will be about 150 men more added to the approximately 1,200 students now eating in the cafeteria. Lines are impossible in the cafeteria already, but to quote a much-used bit of advice: "Come at 12:30—there's no line then." Yes, but come at 12:31 and then see.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In the Flat Hat for March 31 Mr. Robert S. S. Whitman published a letter concerning my review of Macbeth. His interest is a trifle odd in view of the fact that he had not seen the performance in question. I have seen and studied plays for many years; I have yet to express a second-hand opinion. The first duty of an honest critic is to project faithfully what he sees and thinks. His best hope is that his comments may stimulate further thought and result in sounder evaluation of the work concerned. Personalities are completely irrelevant. Mr. Whitman may think what he pleases of my style, though I regret his difficulty in reading long sentences. But the least intelligent retort that can be made to a critic is to say that he could not do as well himself. I am not an actor, and I have no desire to be an actor, though I value the actor's art more highly than Mr. Whitman may suppose.

Mr. Whitman is mistaken in believing that the William and Mary Players need to be judged with condescension. Under the devoted and adroit leadership of Miss Hunt they have achieved a level so close to consistent excellence that they deserve the compliment of being judged by high standards. They can get along without the favor of absentee patronage.

Sincerely,
George Walter Knipp

To the editor:

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, the Williamsburg Theatre will show Gentlemen's Agreement, the picture based on Laura Z. Hobson's best selling novel. It has been widely acclaimed as "the picture of the year," and I believe it is a must for every student, as one of the most significant screen offerings of all motion-picture history.

The movie audience of America includes millions whom the peripatetic and books never reach. It is these Americans who are most susceptible to racial hatred because of pre-conceived prejudices plus lack of knowledge. World wars haven't seemed to change things much, either. A recent report of the Anti-Defamation League states that un-organized anti-semitism in this country is at its highest peak since before Pearl Harbor.

I sincerely recommend Gentlemen's Agreement as an accurate, timely and penetrating portrayal of a basic problem in American life.

"Take Your Time," Says King

William And Mary-Go-Round

The dust has been piling up on my old joke book these past few weeks and I don't have the heart to disturb it.

If you'll permit me (try to stop me!) to depart from the usual, I'd like to ramble on about my pet project, the Varsity Show.

I'm plugging the show this week partly for publicity, but mainly to answer the many questions which students have asked about the production.

For the benefit of those people who have been waiting breathlessly to learn the name of this year's extravaganza, I announce, herewith for the first time that the 1948 Varsity Show is entitled Take Your Time.

That disclosed, here's a bit of background material about the show. In 1937 a group of extroverted scholars at William and Mary banded together to form the Backdrop Club, an organization to be devoted solely to the production of an annual musical comedy, written, directed, acted, and produced entirely by students of the college. By the spring of '38, they had put together an opus called Spring Cleaning, a tremendous success which firmly established the Backdrop Club on the campus.

Yearly Feature

The Varsity Show was a yearly feature through 1942, at which time Uncle Samuel called an intermission. During the war, the gals and the several men in attendance tried to keep the theatrical fires burning, but couldn't quite do it. It remained for the post-war scholars to revive the club and the show. The old guard returned in 1946 to find that "Varsity Show" was a strange, unknown term on campus. An initial organizational meeting was called, and a handful of curiosity-seekers attended.

Somehow, some way, a script was written, songs were turned out, a cast evolved, and rehearsals were started a few weeks before opening night. The last week was the most hectic in the history of man. The writers discovered that the show lasted less than half the time anticipated. Skits and songs were written until two hours before show time. Costumes were completed ten minutes before the actors walked on stage. Parts of the set for the second act were built during the first act.

And, strangely enough, the show, The Heat's On, was a hit! Never had Phi Beta witnessed such whoopin' and hollerin' and laughin'. The gods were with the Backdrop gang; but everyone resolved that the next year's show would not be another rat-race.

When the final curtain call was taken on the last night, Wilford Leach and your humble servant began work on the script for the 1948 show.

Off The Bandwagon

In September the Backdrop Club opened its membership to the entire student body, and 221 lads and lassies signed up. We knew that about one-third of these would fall off the bandwagon before the show, and fall they did. At this writing, 168 members grace the Backdrop roll. Only the dependable people remain (and God help anyone who misses a rehearsal or crew meeting from now on).

This year's show, Take Your Time, is a musical revue in two acts. The production will be mammoth, to say the least. The show has 14 scenes, 25 original songs, 11 dance production numbers, a ballet, an operetta, and 150 people in the cast, including the William and Mary Choir. The unique "orchestra" is composed of a Hammond organ, two pianos and a rhythm section.

The plot, a sketchy one, of course, is a secret. So is the identity of the star of the show. Let me hint only by stating that there isn't one person on earth who can play the lead in Take Your Time.

One other matter is shrouded in mystery—a certain something which even Backdrop Club members do not know. It is discussed in hushed tones by a handful of production chiefs as "Project X."

Broadcast Music, Incorporated has contracted for the rights to the show and to the music of Take Your Time. Three of the songs will be released all over the nation soon. BMI is sending advance sheet music to the Backdrop Club, and copies will be placed on sale at the box office in the lobby of Phi Beta on the nights of the show, and, if possible, in the afternoons of the days on which tickets will be sold.

Thanks to Mr. Petrillo, none of the songs stand a chance of wide circulation in the immediate future. Once the recording ban is lifted, Sinatra may be singing the songs from the William and Mary Varsity Show. One never knows...

The show will open at Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, May 11 and 12, then travel to Richmond's WRVA Theatre for a performance on the night of the 14th. The entire company will board chartered busses after breakfast, rehearse the show at the theatre, give the performance, and return to the Burg after the final curtain.

First Call For Tickets

Backdrop Club members will have first call on tickets for the Williamsburg and Richmond performances. On Monday, May 3, the box office will open at 3:30 to sell tickets only to members of the senior class. Box office attendants will sell tickets to all comers beginning May 4, and on each afternoon following until the show. Standing room seats will be made available, if necessary.

The cast is now in full swing, rehearsing each scene as a unit. Crews and staffs are working daily. On May 1, the production will be put together for the first time in Phi Beta. From that time until opening night the rough edges will be smoothed.

Casual visitors to rehearsals will be thrown out of the nearest window.

Yes, the show is really shaping up. The Backdrop people are hustling as never before. Everyone has his sights set for May 11. Everyone, that is, but Wilford Leach. He's already started working on the Varsity Show of 1949.

Lb. Moore Summarizes Case

Administration Interprets Constitution

The case of the freshman class versus the student government

constitution (and, hence, the Student Assembly) was drawn to a quick close last week, and it looks to me as if neither party won. Certainly the petitioning freshmen were unsuccessful in the efforts to retain their president and vice-president who have failed to meet the academic requirements of the elections committee; and the Assembly has lost prestige by making a quick policy change one day and reversing it the next, after realizing they had no power to act in the case without administrative approval.

To review the facts briefly: last Tuesday night in a special session of the Student Assembly about 40 freshmen presented a petition requesting that their two top officers be allowed to run again despite the fact that they had not met grade requirements. With a 15-4 vote the assembly favored the proposal—acting within what they thought were their constitutional rights. Just 24 hours later the same group met minus the freshmen and plus an unofficial veto from the administration and voted the measure down 11 to 7.

Two-sided Issue

As usual, this issue has two sides. The freshman class may be justified in requesting that their class leaders be retained, since it is apparent that the class of 1951 possesses an outstanding amount of unity and spirit which may be attributable to said leaders. Upperclassmen usually look upon the rah rah attitude of the freshmen with amused indulgence, but we will have to admit this year that their spirit has persisted in an intense form—surely not an undesirable condition.

But as Ed Ward pointed out in the second Assembly meeting the loss of this year's leaders does not necessarily mean the downfall of the class. If there is any real spirit there it can survive a change in officers.

The Assembly action in this matter is hardly commendable, but probably understandable. By making a broad interpretation of the constitution they could see the temporary exception as within their power. And many of the members were sincere in their efforts to satisfy the demands of so many members of the student body. But it seems to me that those 40 freshmen must have been pushing pretty hard for the Assembly to hope to pass even a temporary measure that would lower the already low academic standards for class officers. They should have stopped to consider the improbability of the amendment being passed by the administration members of General Coop.

Who Interprets Constitution?

The whole episode is of little consequence, but it has brought to my mind several pertinent questions. First of all, Who interprets our constitution? The answer, I am told, is very obvious—the administration interprets it. All authority vested in our student government is GIVEN by the college and can be readily withdrawn. This means that changes such as the one recently requested are entirely subject to administration approval.

For obvious reasons this unbalance of power is as it should be, but it makes very pertinent the question, Why have student government since it actually yields no power? The answer to that question is not so evident.

An immediately apparent advantage of the student government which we maintain can be found in the excellent experience it affords those who hold offices. But for the small percentage who are active in student government it hardly seems logical to maintain our rather intricately constructed government. One might point out that a governing body such as the Student Assembly provides an agency through which student affairs can best be presented to the real authority in the college. But if that is the chief advantage of the student government, then I think we have far too many branches when we maintain an Assembly, a Senate, and a General Cooperative Committee. If the Assembly cannot act upon a proposal without the approval of the General Coop, then why have an Assembly? It seems to me that one governing body composed of students and administration with standing committees to make investigations and proposals would make our student government more effective and more sufficient.

We delude ourselves if we think we have a real student government at William and Mary—as is obvious from the recent episode. I don't think we should do away with the formal machinery that permits such an episode, but an overhauling of the status quo is in order, to provide for really efficient machinery to handle such a case.

Dr. Ralph B. Perry, Visiting Scholar, Will Discuss Validity Of Science

Dr. Ralph Barton Perry, professor emeritus of philosophy at Harvard University, will speak on What is the Good of Science? tonight at 8 P. M. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. In addition to this public lecture, the famous speaker and writer will be here tomorrow and Thursday to confer with faculty members.

A New Englander who grew up in Philadelphia, Dr. Perry attended Princeton College and Harvard, where he gained a Ph. D. in 1899. His studies at Harvard influenced him toward philosophy, and he chose teaching and writing as his vocations. After teaching briefly at Williams and Smith Colleges, Dr. Perry returned to Harvard as a junior member of the department of philosophy.

In his writing, Dr. Perry has stressed the history of modern philosophy, from 1860 to 1910, particularly in America. Such works as The Thought and Character of William James and Puritanism and Democracy bear his name. Other books have treated European philosophical tendencies as well as this country's.

In the recent war Dr. Perry served as chairman of the American Defense-Harvard Group and of the Universities Committee on Post-War International Problems. This same interest and spirit now finds him working to promote peace.

Dr. Perry is the first "visiting scholar" of the Richmond Area University Center, to which William and Mary belongs. This organization states as its purpose "Serving more fully the educational needs of Richmond and vicinity"—through the cooperative efforts of the member institutions.

Inside this general aim, the center proposes to introduce to the colleges and universities prominent lecturers, scholars and specialists. The policy is for these "visiting scholars" to present a general public address supplemented by informal conferences.

Spanish Club Announces Election Of New Officers

Joan Stout was elected new president of the Spanish Club at the last meeting, held on Pan American Day. Other officers elected were Bob Saba, vice-president, and Lois Short, secretary-treasurer. Under the new constitution which has been adopted, Saba will serve as program chairman, too.

Katie Olinger was guest speaker at the meeting and Miss Frances Robinson, instructor in the fine arts department, played excerpts from the national anthems of several of the Latin-American countries.

Students Will Select Nominees For Queen Of May Day Program

Commencing the gala festivities of the May Day week end, Buddy Rich and his band will be featured at the Grecian Dance, sponsored by the sororities and fraternities, on April 30 from 9 P. M. until 2 A. M. in Blow Gym.

Voting for senior nominees for the May queen and her court will be held tomorrow in the cafeteria and the final voting will be held on the following Wednesday. Scheduled among the activities of May Day on Saturday from 2-5 P. M. in front of the Wren Building are the presentation of the queen and her court of six, song contest and the skits produced by each class. The most original skit will receive a prize of $25 and the sorority winners of the song contest will obtain WAA points.

Al Blumenthal, chairman of the dance committee, has announced plans for a floor show, staged by the Backdrop Club during intermission. The performers are "Jeep" Friedman, master of ceremonies, the Four Braves, Joe Buchanan, Ann Dunn and the Bray twins.

Warren Rockwitz, in charge of ticket sales, stated that tickets priced at $3.50 until April 26 may be obtained from fraternity representatives or purchased at the door for $4.50. The chairman of the decorations committee, Warren Smith, now making preparations in accordance with the Grecian theme, announced that "though the dance will be formal, it has been requested that no flowers be worn."

Opportunities In Air Force

Pilot training and non-rated officer candidate opportunities now being offered to civilians by the United States Air Force will be described by USAF officers at a meeting to be held at William and Mary on April 26 and 27.

Dr. Pomfret Answers Accusations Of St. Helena Student Committee

In a statement to Walter Stern, editor of the St. Helena paper, Dr. John E. Pomfret, president of the college, has answered the denunciations of Harrison P. Magee, chairman of the St. Helena Continuance Committee, which was formed after Dr. Pomfret's announcement on February 13 that the extension would end its two-year existence this spring.

Dr. Pomfret, in answering the accusations of the committee, stated that "in January the Administrative Council of the college advised that the program be terminated in June because applications from Virginia veterans for admission had ceased. The colleges and universities of the state kindly offered to cooperate with William and Mary with the transfer problem. The Norfolk division through 18 months had prepared itself to receive as transfers an unlimited number of St. Helena students. The problem is comparatively simple, since 337 of the 712 St. Helena students are local. A large number also will move in September to various senior colleges.

"The decision of the college administration was adopted by the Board of Visitors at its winter meeting early in February. It was then transmitted to the faculty and student body at St. Helena through Colonel H. W. K. Fitzroy and to the public through news releases.

"The college," continued Dr. Pomfret, "sees no reason to alter its decision. Throughout the country, as the institutions have readied themselves to absorb the G. I. colleges, such steps have been taken. Regardless of how successful the program at St. Helena has been—and among veterans' colleges it is outstanding—it could never be more than an interim, substitute program. The college at Williamsburg and her divisions at Norfolk and Richmond have the large advantages of stabilized facilities, complete departmental offerings and library and laboratory facilities that could never be developed at a temporary installation. It is of transcendent importance that college instruction anywhere be given only under approved conditions so far as standard accreditation is concerned. The college would be severely criticized were it to persist in maintaining a temporary educational facility a day longer than necessary.

"Further, it would likewise be open to criticism were it to operate with an enrollment so small that it would impose upon the taxpayer an inexcusable expenditure of money. The passage of Selective Service or UMT will at once cut back college enrollments.

"The college is now devoting its full effort to caring for the problem of the individual student at the Extension. Colonel Fitzroy has been assigned to the Norfolk Division to assist at first hand. The college is also engaged in assisting the staff members at St. Helena to secure permanent positions elsewhere. In these adjustments the college has enjoyed the full cooperation of the faculty and the administration of the extension."

Deadline For Submission Of Manuscripts Extended

The date for submission of manuscripts for the Tiberius Gracchus Jones Literary Prize has been extended to Monday, May 10. The prize is given for the best single manuscript submitted.

It may be of any type or length, and more than one manuscript may be submitted by one person. They may be given to Dr. Douglas G. Adair, associate professor of history, or to W. Melville Jones, assistant professor of English.

During the war Dr. W. Warner Moss, head of the government department, held a position with the Far Eastern Research and Analysis Division of Strategic Services.

Board Members Complete Plans For Orientation

Plans have been completed by Mortar Board for the installation of a freshmen sponsor system next September in cooperation with Dr. Katharine R. Jeffers, dean of women, and Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women.

Each sponsor, who will advise eight to 10 freshman girls, will live in the same dormitory as her group of freshmen, give them student government training and keep in close touch with them throughout the whole first semester to aid them in their adjustment to college life.

The new sponsors, members of Mortar Board and student government officers will be entertained Thursday evening in Barrett living room at 7:30 P. M.

Four Indian Teams Face Active Week In Sports

Gobblers Stop W&M, 3-2, In Braves' Big Six Opener

Jimmy Stewart was the victim of a bad third inning here Saturday, as the Virginia Tech Gobblers pushed across all their runs in that frame to edge William and Mary, 3-2, in the first game to be played at the new baseball field behind Cary stadium. It was the first Big Six game of the year for W&M.

Although the Indians tagged Gil Faison for seven hits, one more than Stewart gave up, they were not able to score after pushing home two runs in the opening frame. The Braves went right to work on the Gobbler hurler, but he tightened up as the game progressed and held his one-run lead from the third inning on.

The visitors scored their runs in the third on a walk, an error, long foul and a pair of base hits.

Larry Crum led the Indian attack with two hits in four appearances, including a double, and Lefty Wright added another pair of bingles. Olaf Hedman, W&M left fielder, picked up the only other extra base blow of the day, another double.

Braves Top SHE

Playing against the St. Helena Extension nine here yesterday afternoon, Coach Marvin Bass's diamond team broke loose in the fourth and fifth innings to chase home eight runs and clip the visitors, 8-3.

Little Tommy Korczowski led the rally with a triple to left-centerfield, but almost everybody on the team took part in the assault on Bradley, the starting St. Helena moundsman.

Making his initial start of the season, Curt McSherry showed plenty of promise in giving up just three hits and a single run before retiring in favor of Chick Fox in the top of the sixth.

Crum Looks Good

Perhaps the most pleasant surprise to Bass, however, is the showing of his new catcher, Larry Crum, who moved in to fill the backstop slot when Dick Games signed with the Boston Red Sox just before the spring vacation. He turned in an excellent performance against Virginia Tech last Saturday and then slapped three singles in four appearances at the plate yesterday.

Almost the entire Indian team played, collecting a total of seven hits off the two St. Helena flingers. McSherry, Fox and Bob Gill, who came in late in the game, allowed only four safeties among them.

Intramural Softball Begins; Net Tourney Play Resumes

Lambda Chi Alpha jumped into a quick lead in the Fraternity Softball league last week by virtue of wins over Pi Lambda Phi and Kappa Sig. Don Kellam was the winning hurler in both contests.

Wednesday's results showed wins by Lambda Chi over Pi Lambda Phi, Theta Delt over Phi Alpha and SAE over Kappa Sig. On Thursday KA won out over Pi Lamb, 7-4, and the Sigma Rho-Phi Tau game was postponed. Friday, Lambda Chi took Kappa Sig, 17-3 and Pi KA won over Sigma Pi, 14-3.

In the only game played in the Independent League The Flying Vets nosed out the Geeks, 10-9.

Howard Smith requested all managers of softball teams to check with the supply-room attendant on the day of each game in order to be sure of the field to be used, as late changes may have to be made.

Fencers Finish Eighth Place In Tournament

The fencing team from the College of William and Mary placed eighth in the National Intercollegiate Fencing Tournament held in New York City on April 16 and 17. Janet Pierce, Jane Seaton and Sally Obitz participated for the college, with Peggy Wayne and Shirley Lyons as alternates. This is the third year this school has participated in the meet. Last year W&M placed fourth.

The girls left from Richmond on Eastern Airlines and arrived in New York Friday afternoon.

1948 INDIAN BASEBALL CAPTAIN—Leo Brenner (above), regular third baseman on the William and Mary baseball team, has been selected captain of the diamond nine for this season. A senior, Brenner is a veteran of several years' service in the army.

Navy Topples Golfers, 8-4, In Post-War Debut Of Team

Playing their first match since the 1942 season, the William and Mary golf team sustained an 8-4 defeat at the hands of the Midshipmen of the Naval Academy at the Williamsburg Inn course.

Both teams were hampered by a chilly wind which played havoc with their driving, but several good performances were turned in. The best was by Doug Weiland, freshman from Phoenixville, Pa., who is a former scholastic star. He shot the lowest round of the day, a 73, taking a lopsided 5 and 4 win over his opponent.

Ed Briggs, top Navy swinger, toured the course in 75 to post the top score for his team and defeat Bob Conky, 4 and 2.

The William and Mary team, under Coach W. S. (Pappy) Gooch, looked good in spots but showed a definite need for more practice. They have six more matches to play this spring, and they may be in top form a little later in the campaign.

Summaries

First foursome: Sam Sullivan (N) shot 81 to defeat Mark McCormick (W&M), 3 and 2; Dave Baldwin (W&M) shot 80 to defeat Dick Wiseman (N), 5 and 4; Navy won best ball, 1 up.

Second foursome: Ward Donohue (W&M) shot 79 to defeat Rex Eaton (N), 3 and 2; Doug Weiland (W&M) shot 73 to defeat Cy Hart (N), 5 and 4; W&M won best ball, 4 and 3.

Third foursome: Ed Briggs (N) shot 75 to defeat Bob Conky (W&M), 4 and 2; Joe Barrow (N) shot 79 to defeat George Bartholomew (W&M), 3 and 2; Navy won best ball, 4 and 2.

Fourth foursome: Lee Baggett (N) shot 80 to defeat Doc Ware (W&M), 2 and 1; Arnold Searson (N) shot 83 to defeat Jack Hight (W&M), 2 and 1; Navy won best ball, 3 and 2.

Wright Finds Several Jobs To Augment Outfield Work

Marvin Bass has but two letter-men roaming the outfield of the 1948 edition of the William and Mary baseball team. They are Ken Wright who led the Indians last year in batting with an average of .318, and Harry Robison.

Ken, who hails from Lynchburg, played both centerfield and first base for the Indians last year. His fielding average for both positions was .970, the best of any of the regulars. At the plate he banged out 22 hits, including five doubles, four triples, and three round-trippers.

In Outfield Now

So far this season Wright has been in the outfield and at first,

Baseball Nine, Track Squad To Meet VMI

All four of the varsity teams participating in spring sports have contests scheduled this week, with the baseball team playing five games starting yesterday with the St. Helena Extension and the track team facing both the University of Virginia and VMI.

The tennis team has just one match this week, that being with the Naval Academy in Annapolis, although it plays Army at West Point next Monday and Seton Hall there, the following day. The golf team will be out to return to the victory column when it goes to Norfolk to face the Norfolk Division team Friday afternoon.

Heavy Diamond Slate

Coach Marvin Bass's Indian baseball team, which played St. Helena yesterday and was scheduled this afternoon in Williamsburg travels to Lexington to battle the Generals of Washington and Lee there Thursday and moves on to Death Valley to battle Hampden-Sydney Friday afternoon.

The baseball team returns to its home field Saturday afternoon to tackle VMI, the second Big Six invader of Williamsburg of this spring. Game time is 2 P. M.

Winner in its two previous starts, the Indian track team will encounter higher calibre opposition this week. The Brave cinder-men made the trek to Charlottesville to meet Virginia today, and they will come home Saturday to entertain the Keydets of VMI at Cary Field.

Netters After No. 50

Dr. Sharvy G. Umbeck's Big Green tennis team, which has yet to slow down this year, will be striving to extend their collection of scalps to 50, an enviable string, when Captain Tut Bartzlen leads his team against Navy at Annapolis tomorrow. The other academy at West Point will be played next Monday, and Seton Hall the following day.

So far this season, the teams participating in spring sports have done quite well, with the track team posting the best record. It had gone over the 100 mark in both meets before today's with Virginia.

Two Representatives To Attend Conference

The Women's Athletic Association is sending Martha Adams and Jimmy Murphy as representatives to the first meeting of the Virginia Federation of College Women to be held at RPI on April 22-23. This federation conceived at Madison College is under the auspices of the Athletic Federation of College Women.

The meeting will be held for the purpose of drawing up a skelton constitution and to decide on a plan of action for the coming year.

Smoke Signals

By Bill Greer

One would have needed a pogo stick to keep up with all the sporting events in progress simultaneously in Williamsburg last Saturday when varsity teams were participating in baseball, tennis, track and golf, the informal lacrosse team was playing the Norfolk Division, and 10 high schools from this section were gathered for the 24th annual Tidewater track meet.

In addition, there was a clinic in progress for women tennis players and a couple of softball games of the sandlot variety being played.

And every one of these events was well attended, a situation which indicates a healthy condition at William and Mary. One of the largest crowds ever to watch a Tidewater track meet saw John Marshall, under former W&M athlete, Red Irwin, win the trophy which had been sitting in a case at Newport News High School for some six years.

Bill Greer

Stands Filled

The stands were nearly full at the excellent new baseball field, and the lacrosse match, which has been compared to "playing football with a baseball bat in your hand," drew a large number of enthusiastic spectators. Many watched these sports, and a large number participated.

So much use is being made of the facilities, especially for intramurals, that Athletic Director Rube McCray declared that the present facilities are inadequate and that he is making an effort to provide more room for softball, especially, and for others as well.

McCray Pleased

He said that he was well satisfied with the over-all athletic program here, but that work would continue to be done to make it as comprehensive and as adequate as possible, and to make it touch as many students as possible.

On the subject of construction, it should be pointed out that one of the prime necessities at William and Mary now is the enlargement of the present football stadium to seat at least 25,000 spectators. Until that is done, the best of the nation's football teams cannot be brought to William and Mary consistently. It is understood that work is being done along this line.

Short Scoop

Two more W&M football players, Jim McDowell and Dick Hungerford were married early in the month, the former in Williamsburg and the latter in Richmond. See SMOKE SIGNALS, Page 6

Big Green Tennis Team Seeks 50th Straight Win

Netters Face Army, Seton Hall In Matches Away From Home

By Ed Griffin

When William and Mary's tennis champions face Navy tomorrow at Annapolis they will be seeking their 50th consecutive victory over a four-year span. Having begun the series of triumphs with a 5-2 decision over Duke three seasons ago, the Tribe has now advanced to within striking distance of the Southern Conference record of 66 which was strung together by the University of North Carolina during the middle 1930's when Bitsy Grant was brushing aside the Tarheel's opposition.

Coincidentally, the Indians will be striving to chalk up No. 50 over the institution which handed them their last defeat, the Middies' having turned them back, 6-3, on April 11, 1945, just nine days before the home forces began making it a habit to come out on the long end of the score.

Middies Weak

William and Mary shellacked Navy, 8-1, in 1946, whitewashed them last year and should have no trouble in making it three in a row tomorrow. The academy has lost its top three men of last year's team which could not win a set from the Braves and succeeded in deucing only two. Captain Leonard Vogt, one of the three remaining lettermen, probably will compete at the No. 1 spot. Playing No. 4 last season, he bowed to Bren Macken, 6-1, 6-1.

Wright

hitter, Robbie packs a wallop at the plate.

Onove is a righthander from Bloomfield, N. J. He is also well-known in intramural circles, having played football and basketball for Sigma Rho. He was named the outstanding player of the fraternity league in basketball this past season.

Sherman Robinson Plays

A good freshman prospect is Sherman Robinson, who helped the Tri-Color basketball team get to the Southern Conference tournament. A freshman, this Robbie calls Louisville, Ky., his home. He has looked good in practices and smacked two solid singles in the game against Wesleyan.

Two other freshmen are also listed on the squad. They are (Bud) Grady, vice-president of the freshman class, and Russell (Dutch) Kremer. Grady, a Lynn, Mass., product, bats right-handed, but throws left-handed. Dutch is a Hazelton, Pa., boy. He has only been out the last three weeks, following spring football practice.

Considerably more opposition is expected from Army's netters whom the Indians will battle on Monday, April 26, but not much is known about Seton Hall where they will play on the following day. Last year the Cadets were trampled, 9-0, with the only set being lost by Gardner Larned as he trimmed Charlie Oliver, 6-0, 6-8, 6-2, despite having strained his ankle midway through the match. Oliver is still around and possibly will give the visitors a rough time.

Coach Sharvy Umbeck will carry seven men on the two trips. Besides Fred Kovaleski and Captain Tut Bartzon, there will be Bob Galloway, Howe Atwater, Dick Randall, Bob Doll and Jim Macken.

Carolina Match Shifted

The big contest of the year, that against North Carolina, has been shifted from the home courts to those of the Cavalier Hotel at Virginia Beach as part of a spring sports festival there on May 1. Attempts had been made to schedule a match there earlier in the week against a foe such as Notre Dame or the University of Miami but negotiations could not be completed nor could another tilt be arranged with Carolina. Therefore, the team voted to play the Tarheels at Virginia Beach where expenses for the week end will be paid by the promoters of the festival.

The question of who will face Victor Seixas, John Kenfield's ace, will be determined during this week and the next. Kovaleski and Bartzon, who have been alternating at No. 1 thus far, will play a series of five matches. The winner will earn the right to meet the man who is ranked No. 11 in national singles and fifth in doubles.

Since spring vacation the Tribe has lifted two more scalps, taking the University of Virginia, 8-1, last Tuesday and trimming the University of Cincinnati on Saturday by the same score.

Some of the best tennis one could find is being played this week between "Fearless Fred" Kovaleski and Tut Bartzon for the right to meet Vic Seixas (pronounced Say-Shus') North Carolina star at Virginia Beach. . . A cause for delight in the athletic office for a few years to come is the anticipated presence on campus next fall of John Marshall's Ted Filer, a fine fullback prospect.

Lacrosse Team Nabs Second Victory, 10-2

The informal lacrosse team at William and Mary won its second victory of the season over the Norfolk Division, 10-2, here last Saturday. It was the last game scheduled.

Ken Martin, who has been coaching the squad, scored six of his team's goals, and Tom Bennett added two more for W&M. George Smith and Bucky Hyle came through with one goal each.

The team played before a large and responsive audience and put on a good show. Most of the men are from the north and have experience in the sport.

The William and Mary track team, in its second start of the current season, crushed the Wake Forest Deacons here last Thursday by the score of 108 5/6 to 22 1/6. The Tribe asserted its supremacy in the opening event and was never in danger. All except two first places fell to the Indians, while four events were swept. The sprints were especially fruitful, with the Tribesmen copping all places up to third place in the 880.

Clyde Baker set the pace in pointmaking with wins in the mile and two-mile runs, good for 10 points, while four Tribesmen each had eight points. Wiggs and Harris led the Deacons with five points apiece. The times were good considering the condition of the track, which was generally soft, with a great deal of mud and water on the back stretch.

Three members of the team sustained injuries that will probably keep them out of action for the next week or so. Dick Reymers has a sprained ankle, leaving Coach Thomas with no pole vaulter to enter against Virginia or VMI. In addition, Al Tappe pulled a muscle in his leg, and Bob (Bullet) Lawson is out with a chest ailment.

The squad left this morning for Charlottesville where they were to meet Virginia. The Flat Hat went to press before the results could be obtained.

Several outstanding weight men have been turned up or are back out for the team again this year. Lou Creekmur has been doing an excellent job by putting the shot nearly 47 feet on occasions, while Harry Wenning is still looking good with the javelin.

The best times and performances of the entire team can be expected this week and in the following ones with the stronger quality of the opposition which will be met.

W&M Schedules Annual Play Day

The Women's Physical Education Department of the College in cooperation with the State Board of Education and the Matthew Whaley High School will sponsor the annual Play Day for high school girls in this area on Saturday, April 24.

Twenty-four high schools have been invited to send ten girls each. The tentative program provides for participation in archery, bad minton, games and relays, folk dancing, softball, swimming and tennis.

Mrs. Wightman, sponsor of the Wightman Cup Tennis tournament, will be on hand to give instruction on the rudiments of tennis.

Demonstrations will be given in dances, fencing, and hockey by college students.

The Physical Education department has sent out forms to all members of sport organizations asking them to cooperate in carrying out their program. These forms should be filled out and returned to the box in Jefferson gymnasium.

Mary Hardwick Instructs At Tennis Clinic; W&M Students Assist In Teaching Visitors

Mary Hardwick came to William and Mary Friday and Saturday to give instructions and demonstrations to girls from the college interested in tennis.

Miss Hardwick gave a lecture Friday morning on the fundamentals and strokes of the game, assisted by Frank Guernsey who demonstrated strokes. That afternoon Miss Hardwick and Guernsey played a demonstration match, being joined later by Elaine Passow Lamp and Bren Macken for a doubles set.

Miss Hardwick was born in Wimbledon, England. She began playing tennis in 1930 after seeing Bill Tilden and Helen Wills Moody win the championship there and decided that she wanted to follow in their footsteps. Since she beat Miss Moody, who had been undefeated for 11 years, in 1937, she has never been beaten by a British player.

Saturday afternoon a consolation elimination tournament was played by the representatives from the visiting colleges. Nancy Archer from the Women's College of the University of North Carolina took top honors in the first singles bracket with Ruth Barnes, W&M, taking the consolation prize.

The second singles groups were headed by Elaine Lanman, Sweet

Briar, in the winners bracket, and Jane Oblender, W&M, consolation winner.

Jean Morgan and Carol Neumann, W&M representatives, came out on top in the doubles competition with Dottie Veach and Alice Clark, from Sweet Briar, winning the consolation round.

The girls' tennis team will play Westhampton on May 1 in Richmond, and will represent William and Mary at the Middle States tournament at Swarthmore on May 7 and 8. The Junior Varsity has a tentative date on May 7 and 8 in Philadelphia. Mrs. George Wightman has been scheduled to appear in Williamsburg on April 28.

Justices Down Nine Schools, Win HS Meet

John Marshall High School, of Richmond, tallied 35 points to win the 24th annual Tidewater Group I track meet, held in Cary Stadium last Saturday. Granby High (Norfolk) was second with 30 5/14 points, Thomas Jefferson (Richmond) third with 21, and Newport News was fourth with 17 3/7 markers. Other school participating were Maury High (Norfolk) 15 6/7, Wilson High (Portsmouth) 15 3/7, Hampton High 7 1/2, Hopewell High 3/7, and Norview High (Norfolk County) no score.

Two records were broken, and one was equalled, despite a stiff headwind. Lee Early, of John Marshall, ran the 880 in 2:01.8, clipping a full second off the existing record. Granby's Kelly Hylton broke the discus mark with a heave of 146 feet 8 7/8 inches, while Billy Gale, of John Marshall, equalled his own mark of 15.5 seconds in the high hurdles which he set last year.

Bobby Parrish, John Marshall ace, took individual high scoring honors with 15 points. He flashed to victories in the 100, 220, and 440-yard dashes.

John Marshall, by virtue of their victory, kept the team trophy in circulation for another year. Newport News has two legs on it and was gunning for the third this year. Three victories by any one team automatically retires the trophy, which is replaced by William and Mary, sponsors of the annual affair. The college also supplies the gold first place medals and the high scorer's award.

Students To Nominate Candidates For Honor Council And Assembly

Petitions nominating candidates for offices on the Men's Honor Council and the Student Assembly are due in the office of John E. Hocutt, dean of men, by noon on Friday, April 23.

Tom Athey, chairman of the Committee on Elections, announced that all petitions must be filed on the standard petition form, which is available at Hocutt's office.

Three seniors, one of whom is named president by the Council, three juniors and one sophomore will be elected to the Honor Council.

Hocutt Releases Data On Victims In Auto Accident

Further information concerning the condition of the victims of the jeep accident on Easter Sunday was recently made available by John E. Hocutt, dean of men.

Mrs. Douglas Green, with a punctured lung and 14 broken ribs, was the most seriously hurt and is still in the hospital at the Medical College of Virginia. Her husband received a broken nose and, though treated originally at the infirmary, was returned to the hospital for an operation. Jim Vickers, owner and driver of the jeep, suffered a fractured jaw and hip bone, a deep cut in his leg and several lost teeth and is now in McGuire General Hospital in Richmond. He has withdrawn from college for the semester because of the time he has missed.

Sue Green, who had a chipped bone in the nose and cuts on the face, and her cousin, Carrie Sturgis, recipient of a fractured skull, several broken teeth and a twisted shoulder, have been released from Bell Hospital, where they were taken following the accident.

Until February of 1945 students confined to the infirmary were given free meals.

An amendment to the student government constitution provides that these men may be nominated and voted for by all men students, regardless of class. Election qualifications require that candidates must be members in good standing of the class in which they are running for office and must have maintained a C average for the last complete semester.

Three men and three women from each class will be elected to the Student Assembly. Only class members in good standing may nominate and vote for Student Assembly candidates. Election requirements for candidates are the same as those for the Honor Council.

Athey warned all candidates that campaign posters and placards may not be placed anywhere on the old campus, which is bounded on the east by college corner and on the west by the wall in back of the Wren Building. Electioneering is prohibited within 50 feet of the polls, and all campaign literature must be removed from the campus within one week following the election.

Seminar Audience Hears E. S. Griffith On National Needs

Using as his theme the manner in which the American constitution has responded to modern needs, Ernest S. Griffith outlined some of the most important factors in the Genius of American Government at the meeting of the Marshall-Wythe Seminar last Friday.

He cited some examples of instances in which the constitution had risen to meet the needs of a growing society and pointed out advantages of our system of government.

Griffith, a former professor of political science at Syracuse and now Director of Legislative Reference at the Library of Congress, was introduced by Dr. Charles O. Lerche, a former student of his and director of the seminar.

The needs of our nation which have been met by the constitution are the binding together of an industrial society, the handling of the relationship of government to many individual groups and the "dictatorship of the technically competent" found in a system such as ours.

One of our main problems, Griffith stated, is of education of the electorate everywhere with the aid of the subsidies. Another is the need for organization of effort to meet any depression brought on by the dispersive structure of society.

Concluding his talk, he said that we must fuse the religious element in our life to join the agreement to governmental action with the integrity of the individual and added, as a political scientist, that he felt there was a challenge "to build the kingdom of God among the free."

Dr. Lerche announced that the next meeting of the seminar would be April 30.

A door will be broken in at the left side of the stage in the small cafeteria, providing easy access to the snack bar and will accommodate the overflow of customers from the former.

Similar To Lodge

"The equipment is almost like that used by the Lodge and the menus served will also be similar," Duke stressed. With the snack bar open from 8 A. M. to 11 P. M., students will be able to purchase full meals or snacks at any time of the day. College officials hope in this way to alleviate the crowded situation of the cafeterias. Regular meals will include steak and salad platters as well as sandwiches and the usual soda fountain items.

In connection with the enlarged snack bar, the small cafeteria will be redecorated with new draperies and possible wall murals, and a new floor will be laid. The Wigwam will be closed as soon as the semester ends in order to complete the renovation sometime during the summer.

Based On Hotel Plan

Operating under a system entirely different from the present one, the cafeteria will be based on the hotel plan. Under this arrangement, a chef is given complete charge of the kitchen and he is responsible for the seasoning and temperature control of the food. The company employs few dietitians, one of whom visits each institution only two or three times a year to supervise. The main kitchen will be completely electrified and numerous mechanical devices will be installed. If the special dining halls are continued, prices will be increased to $14 a week.

College To Train Intelligence Men

In cooperation with the Military Intelligence Division of the U. S. Army General Staff, Dr. John E. Pomfret, president of the college, has approved the establishment of the 407th Strategic Intelligence Team (Research and Analysis) at the college, and it was officially activated on April 14.

Two Military Intelligence Reserve Officers of the faculty, Colonel Gordon B. Ringgold and Major Fraser Neiman, constitute the initial officer personnel.

The purpose of the unit is to give a small number of interested and qualified male students an opportunity to undertake research and analysis training which, along with a moderate amount of military training, will lead to commissions as second lieutenants in the Military Intelligence Reserve.

VA Officials Ask Report Of Vets On Income From Productive Labor

"Veterans attending school under the G. I. Bill who have part-time jobs must report their income from productive labor to the Veterans Administration office having jurisdiction over their training," VA officials said today. Copies of VA Form 1963, Report of Compensation from Productive Labor, on which income from productive labor must be reported, are mailed by the VA to students at appropriate intervals. Additional copies are available on request from the VA Regional Office handling the veteran's records.

Conditions Of Reduction

So long as a student-veteran's combined income from productive labor and subsistence does not exceed $175 if he has no dependents or $200 if he has dependents, his subsistence allowance at college will not be further reduced, VA said.

A student-veteran's income from a part-time job does not affect the amount the VA pays his school for tuition, books, equipment and fees.

Although most veterans attending school full time under the G. I. Bill will find increases in the subsistence checks they receive on or about May 1, those with more than one dependent may not begin drawing their full $120 a month immediately.

Ex-servicemen in this category must furnish the Veterans Administration with proof of additional dependency, and VA explained that the tremendous job of processing these papers may delay full payments. VA promised, however, that everything possible would be done to expedite the work.

Subsistence allowances will be raised automatically from $65 to $75 for veterans without dependents and from $90 to $105 for those with dependents. Where a veteran with more than one dependent establishes a second dependency with VA, his allowance will be boosted from $105 to $120.

Increase Retroactive

If proof of additional dependency is furnished VA on or before July 1, this increase to $120 will be retroactive to April 1. If filed after July 1, the raise will date from the day of filing. Where proof is filed on or before this deadline, a lump sum covering any retroactive payments will be included in the first monthly check after the veteran's papers have been processed. Afterwards he will draw $120 a month.

Veterans studying under Public Law 16 will not have to furnish VA any proof of additional dependency, since necessary evidence is already on file. Not every disabled veteran is entitled to an increased allowance, but those who are will receive it automatically.

Biologists Will Hold Annual Open House

The Clayton-Grimes Biological Club will hold its annual open house tomorrow night from 7-10 P. M. in Washington Hall.

There will be exhibits of plants, fossils, invertebrates, reptiles, amphibians, mammals, human physiology and bacteriology, the highlight of which will be the collection of living invertebrates which the club collected on a trip to Yorktown. Club members will be strategically placed to explain the movie and the exhibits. Students enrolled in biology courses and those interested in biology are urged to attend.

The club has scheduled a trip to the Dismal Swamp for Saturday, April 24. Anyone who is not a member of the club and wishes to go may contact either Patsy Bering or Preston Wilson.

At a meeting of the club held on Tuesday, April 13, the new officers were introduced. They are as follows: president, Patsy Bering; vice-president, Walter Sheppe; secretary, Dolores Peck; treasurer, Preston Wilson; membership chairman, Gail Watson; refreshment co-chairmen, Dorothy Heindsmann and Eleanor Cooke; publications chairman, Barbara Seifert.

Now in its thirty-seventh year of publication, The Flat Hat has had 48 editors.

Suzelle Hull Appointed By College To Attend Apple Blossom Festival

By Shirley Spain

Suzelle Hull has been selected by the college to represent William and Mary at the 21st annual Apple Blossom Festival, which is being held in Winchester on April 29 and 30. Highlighting the events will be the coronation of the queen, the Queen's Ball, and the parade Friday led by Singing Star Bing Crosby.

As queen this year Miss Gretchen Van Zandt Merrill, 1948 national women's figure skating champion and Olympic champion, will be attended by a quartet of princesses, who have been selected from various colleges, and two junior attendants from Handly High School.

Suzelle Hull

The queen and her court, in which Suzelle serves as a princess, will be entertained at a banquet Wednesday night at Yorks Inn.

Festivities will begin Thursday with the coronation of the queen, who will receive the sceptre and crown on her throne. She and her attendants, as well as spectators, will then watch the colorful pageant given by the public schools on the steps of Handly High School. Later in the day there will be a Fireman's Parade in which all the fire companies from the surrounding territory will participate.

On Thursday and Friday nights the queen and her court will be escorted by men from a neighboring military academy to the Queen's Ball, which will feature Johnny Long and his orchestra. Bands and floats will turn out for the main parade Friday which will be led by Bing Crosby, who is serving as grand marshal. During her stay the queen will visit the apple orchards also. For the occasion the main street will be blocked off in order to set up concessions where souvenirs and food may be bought.

In addition to Suzelle, Frances Brown, of Stuart Hall, Ramona Butters, of Southern Seminary and Junior College, and Susan Dickenson of Westhampton College will be honored as princesses in the queen's court.

JEFFERSON'S ROUGH DRAFT OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress assembled

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature & of nature's god entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, & the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, & to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles & organizing it, powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to insure their safety and happiness.

Part of the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence, written by Thomas Jefferson. It is now on display aboard the "Freedom Train." The revisions shown were included in the document finally presented to the Continental Congress.

Library Receives Miscellany Stolen During Civil War

A book stolen from the home of Robert Saunders, 14th president of William and Mary, by a private in the Union army during the occupation of Williamsburg in 1864 was recently presented to the college library by Mrs. Atilla Norman of the state of Washington.

The book, Miscellanies in Verse and Prose, by Richardson Pack, contains the poems, letters, essays, and translations of an 18th-century soldier and reflects the tastes and pleasures of army life. Printed in 1719, it was in Saunders' deserted home where it was found and stolen by Nathaniel Adams, a sentry of the Massachusetts Volunteers, who took it with him to his home in Boston after his discharge from the army.

The gift of this volume by Mrs. Norman is the most recent donation of several in the past few years of volumes which have strayed from Williamsburg and the college and which have been returned through the interest of those into whose hands they have fallen. In 1938, a copy of Washington Irving's Alhambra, taken from the library by a soldier quartered in the Wren Building, was returned from the midwest. During the late war, the only volume in the possession of the college from its first library was found in Bristol, England, in a scrap drive, and returned.

Theatre Will Offer 'Double Feature' With Pair Of Shaw One-act Plays

For the first time in its long history, the William and Mary Theatre will present a "double feature." A pair of one-act plays by a youngster named Shaw will be offered, first at 6:30 P. M., then at 8 P. M., on Wednesday, April 28 at Phi Beta Kappa Hall. A single set of performances will be given the following night at 8 P. M.

The "dining hall crowd" is the object of the 6:30 performance on Wednesday evening. A flat rate of 60 cents will be charged as admission, with no seats reserved for the early show. Regular procedure and admission prices will be preserved when the "carriage trade" arrives for the nightcap presentation.

The two abbreviated Shavian works to be offered are The Dark Lady of the Sonnets and Passion, Poison and Petrification. The first effort, an "exposé" of Will Shakespeare, includes Betty Davls, Joe Buchanan, Nancy Adams and John Manos in the cast. Passion, etc. lists Mary Gerschank, David "Jeep" Friedman, Richard Bethards, Frances Thatcher, William Harper, Joe Binder and Kenneth McGinn as the dramatis personae. Sets for both plays have been designed by Fred Allen, a fine arts student, who is in Mr. Roger Sherman's class in advanced designing. Fred has conceived two highly imaginative sets, and has been directing the execution of his own designs. With the aid of Sherman and Albert Haak, the Theatre's technical director, Fred will command the technical production of the two one-act plays.

The Shaw plays will be the final offerings of the local players for the current season. The productions are being sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi, the national honor fraternity for dramatics. An extensive souvenir program has been planned for the evening's entertainment. Every member of Theta Alpha Phi is aiding in some phase of the productions.

They are as follows: Tommy Boyenton, president; Gene Griffin, vice-president; Margaret Smithwick, secretary, and Terry Reynolds, treasurer.

Charles E. Batten Will Give Speech At Chapel Service

Charles E. Batten, dean of Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pa., will be the guest speaker at Chapel tomorrow at 6:30 P. M. Dean Batten is the fourth of a series of guest speakers contacted by the Student Religious Union.

After completing undergraduate work at Temple University, Philadelphia, Dean Batten finished his special graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania. A native of Oaklyn, N. J., he has previously spoken at William and Mary and is being brought back by popular request.

In his address at Chapel last week, Dr. D. J. Blocker, chairman of the Chapel committee for the past ten years, emphasized the importance of mystery to modern life. Mystery is the enchantment to pursuit," he stated, after pointing out that, although many questions have been answered by science, the area of discovery is far from exhausted.

If all the unknowns of life were to be explained, there would be no pursuit of knowledge, but, because of the finite nature of man, "no man knows everything about anything," declared Dr. Blocker. "What is within the limits of his knowledge he calls natural law; what he is unable to comprehend, he refers to as supernatural," he added.

Fraternity Elects Officers

Kappa Chi Kappa, girl scout fraternity, announces the election of the following officers at their last meeting, March 30: Margaret Brewer, president; Betty Laine, vice president; Sarah Wilson Harold, secretary; Ina Saville, corresponding secretary; Jane Uhlendorf, treasurer.

WHY...I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is the best cigarette on the market. I've smoked them for about 20 years. It's mild and it's got more real tobacco taste."

"Liggett & Myers buy the middle leaves...it's the best leaf...it's mellow...it's got to be ripe. They consistently pay above the average to get the tobacco they want."
